

Sevilla Bronson, PhD, MSN, APRN

Associate Professor
(Serves as Interim Associate Dean for the Undergraduate Program in the School of Nursing)

Sevilla Bronson, PhD, MSN, APRN is a graduate of Florida A&M University where she received her BSN and MSN in Adult Gerontology Nursing, and later earned her PhD in Nursing with a focus on Nursing Education and Multicultural Disparities from Barry University. She is licensed in the state of Florida as an Advanced Practice Registered Nurse and her 30-year nursing career fostered opportunities for consulting and management in various health care and professional settings. Her academic experience of over 17 years includes teaching in nursing fundamentals, health assessment, nursing pharmacology, medical-surgical nursing and simulation. She has also taught in a baccalaureate nursing program in Tongliao, Inner Mongolia, China.

Dr. Bronson is an active member of the Sigma Theta Tau International Nursing Honor Society (Rho Kappa Chapter President), Tallahassee Area Council of Advanced Practice Nurses, American Association of Nurse Practitioners, and the International Nursing Association for Clinical Simulation and Learning. She also serves as a Director for the Bond Community Health Center and is a peer reviewer for Accreditation Commission for Education in Nursing.

Dr. Bronson is a recipient of the 2008 “Nurse of Excellence” award from Capital Regional Medical Center. She is also published in Nurse Education Today journal and the International Journal of Nursing and Health Care Research. Her research interests include self-determination, autonomy support environments, spirituality and homelessness.